HELPING THE NEEDS OF DISABLED CITIZENS IN FRENCH TO BE HEARD BY THE PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATES

David, Marie, Ricardo, Sandy and Sarah, Loïc, Denis, Christine, Alexandre, Willy ... for a month from 23 March to 23 April, the first round of the presidential election, Video testimonials. The objective is to make their voices heard, to make them understand what they are experiencing on a daily basis, their unrecognized needs and the sometimes Kafkaesque situations in which they find themselves. Because if the presidential candidates do not have much to say about disability policy, people with disabilities have needs to express. The initiatives in this direction prove it. On Monday, March 13, some fifteen people directly affected by the disability challenged the presidential candidates. Among them, the slammer and director Grand Corps Malade, athletes Marie-Amélie Le Fur and Michaël Jeremiasz, director and producer Dominique Farrugia ... gathered by swimmer and adventurer Philippe Croizon. Their direct question: "What do you do for disability? Understood not much. Source Valerie Di Chiappari Association Paralyse de France, Faire Face
