Paris, Washington DC, 13.04.2018, 00:41 Time

USPA NEWS - French Interior Minister Gerard Collomb received his counterpart, the German Minister of the Interior Horst Seehofer, at the department at Place Beauveau. The German minister has just been appointed to the new German coalition government and has already provoked his first controversy a month ago. The Minister of the Interior, Seehofer who is positioned very right, thus triggered his first controversy by taking the place of Islam in Germany, less than two days after the inauguration of Angela's new government Merkel. The two ministers Collomb and Seehofer have absolutely disagreed with the possible means of regulating immigration within the European Union, since the absorption of the "1 Million" of refugees by Angela Merkel and she has been criticized, after the "non-integration of some immigrants". This meeting comes just days before the presentation of the law "Asylum & Immigration, integration" of Gerard Collomb in the French Parliament, and this, under many criticisms from the associations for the defense of human rights and protection of refugees. The vote should take place next weekend, Saturday, April 21 next.

The French Minister of the Interior, Gerard Collomb has explained the "Will to combine efficiently and with a great humanity will for immigration to the European Union level." He then explained that President Macron "is trying to get new rules and combine them with the principles of solidarity and reality within the European Union ", and " bring about the best results. French Minister Gerard Collomb also recalled that "France and Germany are at the forefront and to drive policies in Europe." Finally, he thanked his counterpart for his visit to Paris.-----

The German Minister of the Interior reminded him of the "quality of relations between France and Germany through cooperation" and even a "friendship" as well "on the real ground together". He added "We want to build together against terrorism and the security situation is tense and we have to ask ourselves what we can do, on the migration issue, and over time, we need a EUROPEAN REGULATION, which takes into account the humanism and the challenges of integration and integration capacity. We prefer border control, and freedom of movement inside frontiers that must be maintained, the security problem or problems appear. "
