USPA NEWS - The Ministerial Group to Stimulate the Private Sector Provides Investment opportunities for the sector worth 26 billion riyals Mr. Khamis Al-Mohannadi, Chairman of the Technical Committee for the Encouragement and Participation of the Private Sector in Economic Development Projects, revealed that the ministerial group to support and stimulate the private sector provided investment opportunities to the Qatari private sector with a total value of 26 billion Qatari Riyals.

Health, education and logistics, as well as tourism and industry. Al-Mohannadi said during a press conference hosted by Qatar News Agency (QNA) that the private investments announced were the result of the main objectives of the ministerial group to support and motivate the private sector, which identified the priority projects for private sector participation, which proved its efficiency and ability to implement the projects put forward by the committee. Which reflects the strength of Qatar's economy and is in line with the International Monetary Fund's expectations that the non-oil sector will grow by more than 4 percent this year despite the conditions of the country's unjust blockade.

He added that the ministerial group to support and stimulate the private sector formed large task forces specialized in addressing the challenges and difficulties facing the private sector, and was able to achieve great achievements during the siege period, as its efforts resulted in projects, some of which were a direct result of the blockade, while others were included in strategic plans far The range previously established by the government to support the private sector. He pointed out that "our relationship with the countries of the blockade was based on the principle of economic integration, and we are working on the transition in this relationship from the principle of economic integration with the embargo countries to the principle of self-reliance and self-sufficiency." Al-Mohannadi follows the sectors and projects launched during the past period. The period of the siege witnessed a number of projects and the start of production in other projects, while additional projects are still under study and discussion.

He elaborated on a number of projects developed by the state in front of the private sector, foremost of which are food security projects, including the "fish farming" project, in which the state has allocated a marine area in the north and aims to achieve self-sufficiency of fish up to 80% The volume of self-sufficiency of fish wealth today is 65 percent, while two new projects will be launched in the future to achieve 100 percent self-sufficiency. He pointed out that the project "fish farming" was awarded to a Qatari company to be implemented by the end of the second quarter of this year. The private sector investment amounted to 50 million riyals, with production starting in the first quarter of 2019. He pointed out that the Qatari company that has been awarded this project has achieved another achievement in terms of attracting capital and foreign investments, in addition to the expertise and international technologies useful, and entered into a partnership with a Norwegian company is one of the strongest companies in the world of fish farming.

Mr. Khamis Al-Mohannadi, Chairman of the Technical Committee for the Promotion and Participation of the Private Sector, said that one of the important projects in the field of food security is the "shrimp farming project", which will start production in the third quarter of 2019. It aims to achieve self-sufficiency of about 90% And the size of the investment is about 50 million riyals, stressing the importance of this project, which meets the country's need of shrimp, which prevents fishing in the state as a result of environmental and municipal laws that prohibit fishing deep, or "fishing shelf Alqai" . In the field of feed industry, Al-Mohannadi said that the ministerial group has allocated 3 plots of land of 6 million square meters for the dry feed project, which began to produce 65 percent of Qatar's dry feed needs. The project was overseen by three Qatari companies. In the project 125 million riyals. He added that two new projects will be introduced in the field of dry feed in the third quarter of this year.
