FOUNDATION JAURES & FAYARD UNVEIL THE BOOK OF CELIA BELIN DEMOCRATS IN AMERICA

TIME TO MAKE CHOICES AGAINST TRUMP

Paris, Washington DC, 26.02.2020, 17:58 Time

USPA NEWS - Celia Belin, doctor of political science and guest researcher at the Brookings Institution, publishes, Democrats in America: the hour of choices facing Trump, a co-edition of the Jean-Jaures / Fayard Foundation. This book describes the proliferation of ideas for the renewal of the American left with the testimonies of candidates, activists and sympathizers of the Democratic Party. In 2016, the surprise election of Donald Trump caused a political earthquake in the United States. Main victim: the Democratic Party, knocked out by the failure of her candidate, Hillary Clinton.

However the effect was that of an electric shock. The American left party, dying after eight years of Obama's presidency, has been revitalized by intense debates within it. Three strategies for returning to power in 2020 have emerged:

- Reconquer the middle and popular classes for the social left
- Reconcile a hyper polarized public opinion for the extreme center
- Overthrow a system that penalizes minorities, for progressives

The party establishment has one priority: finding a candidate who can beat Donald Trump, whoever he is. It is all these dynamics that will decide the political figure and project opposed to that of Donald Trump. Celia Belin followed candidates, activists and democratic sympathizers for several months. She describes this proliferation of ideas for the renewal of the American left, and offers an original reading grid of the challenges of the Democratic primary and the presidential election of 2020. An analysis of current affairs which is also rich lessons for democracies facing populist nationalism. A portrait of the democrats mobilized to change the face of America. Gilles Finchelstein, Director General of the Jean-Jaurès Foundation, will receive Celia Belin, Thursday March 15, 2020, on the occasion of the release of her work, at the Jean-Jaurès Foundation, at 6.30 p.m.
