FRENCH AMBASSADOR EXPELLED FROM MINSK BELARUS FOR UNCLEAR REASON-----

The French ambassador is expelled from Belarus, without any reason being given by the Belarusian authorities of Louvachenko. France, like other countries of the European Union, did not recognize the results of the presidential election last August, which granted a sixth term to the president and sparked massive demonstrations for several months and unprecedented in this former Soviet republic, an ally of Vladimir Putin's Russia. On the other hand, The European Union and the United States have imposed waves of sanctions on the Belarusian strongman's regime over a post-vote crackdown on dissent in Belarus after the country erupted in historic protests against his rule. And in August, Minsk revoked the consent for the appointment of the US ambassador -- career diplomat Julie Fisher, who in December had been confirmed as the first US envoy to the ex-Soviet country since 2008. In March, it expelled the entire staff of Latvia's embassy, including the ambassador, after Latvian authorities used a Belarusian opposition flag at an ice hockey championship. Source: NDTV, AFP
