The Spanish Civil Guard detained two people in Barcelona linked to DAESH

For recruitment and indoctrination

Madrid, 04.11.2015, 12:11 Time

USPA NEWS - The Civil Guard has developed an anti-terrorist operation this Wednesday, led by the Central Court of Instruction Number 1 of the National Court, which have arrested two people in Barcelona linked to recruitment and indoctrination apparatus of the terrorist organization DAESH.

The two detained are both Moroccan origin and are one Spanish and one Moroccan nationals. Through social networks, the detainees have had contact with individuals in conflict zones, offering support and encouragement to continue their activities. They have participated actively and directly in the propaganda apparatus DAESH through private meetings for viewing set of propaganda content of this terrorist organization, praising its members and the organization.

The detainees would be responsible for creating profiles for viewing files of all types (pictures / videos / documents) produced by the DAESH, later disclose them to other users through other social networks or share directly with other individuals in the aforementioned private meetings. Proselytizing activities have been intended to persuade the participants in those meetings to join the DAESH and travel to conflict zones.

The Civil Guard is making records in the homes of the detainees. The operation is still open. This is the second anti-terrorist operation developed in 48 hours after the arrest Tuesday in Madrid of three suspected jihadists, also Moroccan origin, ready to attack and linked to the terrorist organization DAESH. This previous operation has been coordinated by the Central Court of Instruction No. 4.
